Dickinson State University and Dakota College of Bottineau prepare for Spring Semester

DSU and DCB have selected some of their courses to be taught in the new SaaS system for Spring 2018 semester.

DSU has selected an estimated 34 courses to be taught in the new SaaS system this coming spring semester. They have been busy converting and migrating a combination of courses to the SaaS production system. They have completed various training sessions with their faculty and prepare them for the new system.

DCB has also selected to teach an estimated 15 courses in the new SaaS system. They too have been busy converting courses to production and completed various training sessions with their faculty. Both campuses hope for a smooth transition this spring term and prepare for a full rollout summer 2018.

Up Next..

Mayville State University

Converted all Summer 2018 courses to SaaS Production. They have completed additional training. Now working to convert Fall 2018 courses.

Minot State University

Will begin archiving courses from their managed hosted system to SaaS in early Spring semester.

North Dakota State University

Bb Snow custom B2 testing is complete and continues to test their Bb Manager custom B2. They have also continued to archive sample courses for testing.
